Crystal Yokley, FNP to join Rangeley Family Medicine

RANGELEY—Please join Rangeley Family Medicine staff in welcoming Crystal Yokley, FNP to the practice. Crystal will be moving from Tennessee to provide medical care to residents and travelers of the Rangeley Lakes region. Crystal has practiced family medicine for 11 years and has provided pediatric and geriatric care, as well as women and men’s health services, and in-office surgical procedures. She describes herself as passionate about health, wellness and improving individuals’ overall health.

Crystal obtained a Master of Science in Nursing degree at Western Kentucky University, Bowling Green, KY in 2009 and her undergraduate nursing degree at Cumberland University in Lebanon, TN in 2003.

“The charm of Rangeley, Maine draws one in on first sight,” Crystal recently shared. “I quickly fell in love with the area. The only things better than the scenery are the people I have had the pleasure of meeting thus far. I look forward to working with and meeting many more of the citizens of Rangeley and surrounding areas.” She continued, “An ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure. I hold true to this saying. Keeping the people in Rangeley and surrounding areas healthy and well is my priority.”

In Rangeley, Crystal will work alongside Diane Zavotsky, MD and Angela Kristoff, LCSW, who offers behavioral health services. 1,400 residents of Dallas and Lincoln Plantations, Madrid, Magalloway, Rangeley, Sandy River and adjacent locations receive care from the health center each year.

Rangeley Family Medicine is a practice of HealthReach Community Health Centers, a system of 11 Federally Qualified Health Centers in Central and Western Maine.
